

Brochure, Esperanza/Hope -- Your chance to stay in the US

Three page brochure sponsored by Catholic Charities Diocese of Rockville Center and United Way of Nassau Suffolk offering information for undocumented immigrants in New York City after the Immigration and Reform Control Act (IRCA) of 1986. The IRCA law offered a one-time amnesty for illegal immigrants who had been continuously in the United States since 1982, in return for the imposition of sanctions on employers who knowingly hired undocumented workers.;The Immigration Reform and Control Act (IRCA) of 1986 and the Immigration Act of 1990 had a far-reaching impact on Latino and other Caribbean immigrants in New York State. The main goal of IRCA was to control and deter illegal immigration to the United States. The law included sanctions for employers who knowingly hired undocumented workers, increased enforcement at US borders, and allowed legalization of some immigrants who had resided in the US continuously since 1982.

Identifier

NYSA_16034-99_B4F4

Alternate Identifier

DMS ID Number: 160841

Date

January 1 1986

Repository

New York State Archives

Source

New York State Archives. New York State Commissioner of Social Services. Cesar Perales, Subject and Correspondence Files, 1980-1992. Box 4, Folder 4.

Rights

This image is provided for education and research purposes. Rights may be reserved. Responsibility for securing permissions to distribute, publish, reproduce or other use rest with the user. For additional information see our Copyright and Use Statement

Special Project

Ventana al Pasado/Window on the Past

More From This Series

New York State Commissioner of Social Services César Perales Subject and Correspondence Files

Geographic Locations

Nassau County (is associated with)

New York City (is associated with)

Suffolk County (is associated with)