

Standing in a Forest

View of five people, four men and a woman, standing in a pine forest. The date and the location are unknown, but the people's clothing suggests ca. 1900-1920. The large trees are spaced about twelve to fifteen feet apart, and the understory is made up of ferns and pine seedlings. This image may have been created to record the Adirondack-related activities of the New York State Conservation Commission.
