

Trout Tagging Machine

View of a man demonstrating the operation of a "trout tagging machine." He is holding a trout, and is about to stamp a mark on its tail. There is a basket next to the machine that he appears to be tossing fish into. The date and location are unknown, but it is probably ca. 1918-1920. This image was created to record the game fish hatchery activities of the New York State Conservation Commission.
