

Loggers on Break

View of two men sitting on a log in a forest during winter. The date and location are unknown, but it is probably no later than 1920. One man appears to be adjusting the other man's hat. They are likely loggers; one is holding an axe. The following is written near the bottom: "one of sissons Lies." This image may have been created to record the Adirondack-related activities of the New York State Forest, Fish and Game Commission, Conservation Commission, or Conservation Department.
