

Existence of War — Austro-Hungarian Empire

President Woodrow Wilson's acknowledgment of war with Austria-Hungary. In this document, Wilson proclaims that a state of war exists between the U.S. and Austria Hungary. He asks that all civil and military officers "exercise vigilance and zeal in the discharge of the duties incident to such a state of war" and that the American people uphold the laws of the land and give their support to the war effort.;President Woodrow Wilson's acknowledgment of war with Austria-Hungary. In this last part of the document Wilson provides public safety regulations, such as not allowing Austro-Hungarian citizens living in the U.S. who are over the age of 14 to leave the U.S. without a court order or permit from the President.
