

Niagara Mohawk "Electric Building" in Buffalo, New York. October 17, 1937

The Niagara Mohawk "Electric Building", also known as Iskalo Electric Tower, in Buffalo, New York. This building was built for the Niagara Mohawk Electric Company in 1912. It is 294 feet tall and is built in the Beaux-Arts Classical Revival style. The spire of the tower is usually illuminated during the night.

Identifier

NYSA_A0245-77_Erie_B03_50

Alternate Identifier

DMS ID Number: 185071

Date

October 17 1937

Repository

New York State Archives

Source

New York State Archives. New York (State). Education Dept. Division of Archives and History. Photographs of historic sites and structures, 1936-1963. Series A0245-77. Erie County.

Rights

This image is provided for education and research purposes. Rights may be reserved. Responsibility for securing permissions to distribute, publish, reproduce or other use rest with the user. For additional information see our Copyright and Use Statement

More From This Series

Education Department Division of Archives and History photographs of historic sites and structures

Geographic Locations

Buffalo (is associated with)