

Bare trees in autumn

View of a forest taken on October 25, 1935. The trees are bare and the ground is covered with leaves. In the foreground is a clearing. In the middle ground are deciduous trees. On the right side of the image is a slight incline. In the background is a scattering of coniferous trees. This image was created to record forestry and parks activities of the New York State Forest, Fish and Game Commission, Conservation Commission, or Conservation Department.
